Gather   Interact   Learn

The learning platform that transforms how organizations educate and train all their learners

Knowledge is Socially Constructed

TOPYX was constructed on the idea that knowledge is socially constructed. TOPYX is an award winning, collaborative learning platform connecting organizations to their communities of learners. TOPYX is an easy-to-understand platform that enables teammates, partners, members and customers to be more competitive, productive, educated and on-boarded faster. Our features are designed for peer-to-peer, informal and formal learning, throughout the organization, wherever they may be located or whichever device they are using. With an extensive list of features, TOPYX meets the needs of both administrators and learners, while providing an unparalleled environment to engage with content and each other.
